Bicolor polyester velvet

Key features

Lantal velvet seat cover fabrics in 100% Polyester Trevira CS (Comfort and Safety) have the following compelling advantages:

- Excellent processability thanks to fineness and low weight
- The weaving technique results in alternating pile heights to produce a noble surface sheen
- Compliance with all relevant safety regulations in all types of vehicles
- Long service life due to good abrasion resistance
- Simple cleaning of all upholstery components

Specifications

Composition

The fabric is composed of 100% Polyester Trevira CS.

Typical applications

Seat covers, headrest covers, wall coverings, headliners, undersides of luggage racks.

Thanks to compliance with all fire safety regulations, the fabric can be deployed in any type of vehicle. A crisp brand presence can be attained by standardizing interiors.

Colors

The Lantal product line covers a selection of predefined colors for distinctively unique interiors, available from the warehouse.

Design options

The headrest covers can for example be embroidered with your company logo or individualised with coloured corded edging or decorative stitching to strengthen your brand.

Moisture absorption

Polyester fibers hardly absorb moisture and guarantee good moisture wicking.

Abrasion resistance

Lantal velvets fulfill all European and North American wear standards.

Pile resilience

Very low susceptibility to wrinkling. The as-new look of the vehicle interior is preserved for a very long time.

Light fastness

Thanks to an optimized dyeing process, Lantal's velvets are very lightfast and comply with ISO 105-B02.

Safety and standards

Lantal velvets are permanently flame-resistant and comply with international standards and specifications – UN-ECE-R118.02, FMVSS 302, and DIN 5510-2.

Cleaning

Washable with water and sponge or with a wet extraction unit at temperatures of up to 40°C. The fibers absorb virtually no moisture and therefore dry quickly after wet cleaning.

Service life

Lantal products are exceptionally durable and preserve the as-new look for a very long time.

Ready-made products

Lantal supplies ready-made seat covers on request. The seat covers are supplied on the basis of the measurements provided and are ready for use.

Other ready-made products supplied by Lantal include headrest covers, curtains and carpets.
